EARLY HISTORY OF ELLSWORTH

The first settlers came to Perry (later named Ellsworth) in 1855. They were Anthony Huddleston, Caleb Bruce, Elihu W. Bruce, Eli T. Bruce, Wilson Kinne, Norris Kinne, Henry P. Ames, William Crippin, David Klingensmith. The village was laid out and platted in 1862. William Crippin built a frame hotel in 1860 on what is now the James Cope property, and C. S. Dunbar opened a store in 1861. This store was located just east of the present J. C. Vezina property.

The prospect of Ellsworth becoming the county seat gave a great impetus to business enterprises. A popular vote was taken in 1861 which made Ellsworth the county seat and in the year 1862 the citizens of Ellsworth built a log house in which the first terms of court were held. Meanwhile the officers had their county offices in the basement of Crippin's hotel. The permanent county buildings were erected in 1869 at a cost of $60,000. Norris Kinne built the first house in the town of Ellsworth.

The first schoolhouse in town was built in 1857 and was located on what is now the R. W. Fink property. Miss Mary Filkins, afterwards Mrs. G. H. Sargent, was the first teacher. In 1863 a frame schoolhouse took the place of the old log building and in 1874 a commodious brick building was erected on the present site at a cost of $50,000.

The first marriage was that of Charles Stannard and Mary Leonard in 1855. The first birth was that of twin children, born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson. The first death of an adult was that of Mrs. Jacob Youngman in the winter of 1855. The first post office was opened in 1860 with Seely Strickland as postmaster. A branch railroad built from Hudson to River Falls was extended to Ellsworth in 1855.

The village is beautifully situated on an elevated plateau originally covered with hardwood timber. It has now 1,043 inhabitants and is located in the center of a rich agricultural district where farming, stock raising, and dairying are carried on with marked success.

SENIOR HISTORY

FIRST

In September 1920, we, the Seniors entered the Ellsworth High School. A large majority of our class was from the rural districts. Fifty-three bashful, meek freshmen began their high school career, receiving the condescending looks and jokes of the upper classmen bravely.

We gave a marshmallow toast in Dickie's woods; later on we gave a sleigh ride party. Our class picnic was held at Goose Lake, shortly before the term expired.

We showed our ability in athletics, declamatory work, and debate and our future in this work seemed very promising. Our class was well represented in the O. D. Society and in the Athletic Association.

The school term of '20 and '21 thus ended with many smiling faces and a few frowns when our report cards were distributed.

SECOND

We entered our Sophomore year in September, 1921 and received our first thrill of being upper classmen. We had lost our timid, meek ways and in their place were pep, zeal, and determination.

We forged ahead in school activities, quite a number taking part in athletics, debate, literary, oratory, and declamatory work, our class being represented in each for the contest.

As a whole our Sophomore class was very successful, and we had hopes for a still brighter future.

THIRD

Our Junior year was to us the most important in many ways. The boys and girls upheld us in basketball, greatly aiding the school teams. We kept up our good work in all other school activities.

The biggest event of this year, however, was the Junior Prom. To put this across successfully in a financial way, we gave the play, "At the End of the Rainbow." The ability and initiative of our class was greatly shown in the planning of the Prom. The Park Pavilion was beautifully and tastefully decorated in the colors of the Junior and Senior classes.

The term ended with a class picnic at Glenn Park, River Falls.

FOURTH

We entered upon our Senior year, happy in a sense, yet sad, happy, for bright the future seemed—sad, for we knew 'ere long old friends must part. Again we took part in all school activities. We feel that we shall be missed, because of the active part we have taken in football, basketball, literary society, oratory and declamatory work.

Throughout our high school career, we have endeavored to better the school and have helped zealously in making a good record for our Alma Mater in all her activities.

Our high school days shall live on with us in memory as the happiest days in our lives, and it is with regret that our class parts never again to be together in so happy a group. May we all choose the vocation for which we are most suited and find happiness and success therein.

Senior Class Will

As our noble high school career draws to its close, we, the Senior Class of '24, of the Ellsworth High School in the County of Pierce and State of Wisconsin, being of sane mind and sound body, and in possession of all our normal faculties and firm in our convictions that we do possess such pep, knowledge, and high ideals which the school cannot afford to lose, do hereby make and declare this to be our last will and testament. We, without undue influence, desire that our property be disposed of as follows:

To the school we leave our pep initiative to be used by the classes to back all school activities and to better the school in every way.

To Mr. Rusy, our devoted class advisor, we leave those moments which we regret that we did not spend working faithfully on our Junior Class Play of '23.

To the Juniors, we leave our ability to bluff and get by without excuses. We hope that they will develop these traits as we have.

To the Sophomores, our vacancies on the football and basketball teams.

To the Freshmen, our dignified manner, social etiquette, and good looks.

To Don Zwickey, Rosario Neely's ability as a lady's man.

To Bernard Floody, Iona Bacon's book, "How to Get Thin in a Day."

To the Junior girls, the Senior Girls' basketball ability.

To Grace Gilbert, Ida Locke's vamping ways.

To Louise Leach, Dorothy Haessly's last long look at the cloak room mirror.

To Albert Fischer, Esther Downey's light heart and merry ways.

To Clair Travis, Howard Campbell's insatiable appetite for arguing.

To Don Zwickey, Clare Steiner's long lost love.

To Clarence Seifert, Oluff Beaström's secret, "How to Appear Short Though Tall."

Elsie Johnson bequeaths her dignity and quiet ways to Irvin Steiner. Use them, Irvin.

To Kenneth Ryan, Marshall Peterson leaves his formula for concentrated Study. Preserve it carefully, Casey.

To Wilmay Hanson, Claire O'Connell leaves her smile. Smile, Wilmay, we like to see you.

To Gordon Brown, Evelyn Hansen leaves her ability to solve physics problems.

Wilbur Bookshaw bequeaths his athletic ability to Hartzel Neely.

Ernest Bork leaves his studious ways to Lorenzo Meacham.

Irene Hall surrenders the echo of her giggle to Adeline Larson.

Nellie Bartlett leaves complete instruction on "How to Do the Hair" to the Junior girls.

Faye Hovde leaves her sunny smile to the saddest Freshmen.

Helen Elliott leaves her scholarship to Luther Arnold.

 It's while we're Juniors
 We have our chance. —Elma Lansing.

JUNIORS—THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

THORA ANDERSON

I'm awful quiet, but not a bad sight.

LUTHER ARNOLD

They tell me I am smart at school,
 And after all I'm not such a fool.

NORMAN BARTLETT

Big, broad-shouldered, happy-go-lucky chap.

CLAIRE NELSON

Wanted! A way of prevention
 To keep me from detention.

ARNOLD BARNES

Nobody loves a fat man; in this case we all must be "nobody."

AILEEN BARTLETT

As a general rule,
 She's quiet at school.

LORENA BACON

I'd just as soon be something great,
 But I leave it all in the hands of fate.

RUTH BEASTROM

Helps along with a cheery song.

The HUB

E. H. S.

MILLARD BONNEY

But after everything is said,
My head is not so awful red.

ROY BORCHERT

Sometimes here, sometimes there,
Where he is he doesn't care.

BEULAH BOLIN

Belle of the Junior class.

CLARA BRISTOL

I'd like to be a teacher if I could be strict and stern.

ROSINE BRISTOL

Is it true? Is it true?
Someone really loves you?

GORDON BROWN

Why some people work is a mystery to me.

EVELYN CAMPBELL

No rouge for me, don't need any.

KENNETH CAMPBELL

Leave me go, I want to be free.
These women are getting too much for me.

NINA CLONTS

Remember I'm from Beldenville.

ELWOOD EATON

I don't know much about what I will be,
But, fair one, I'll always love thee.

ALBERT FISCHER

Don't laugh or grin, or wiggle your chin.

MARJORIE FOLEY

I'm a lawyer's daughter, but I don't argue with teachers.

MARVEL FRESSE

Snow and rain are awful stale,
But I always love to welcome "Hale."

RUTH HANSON

With members like Ruth in the class,
No wonder they succeed so fast.

BURTON HALES

She's a regular "Marvel."
They tell me I'm hopeless.
They tell me I'm hopeless.

MARION LEONARD

Always lively, full of fun;
Too many she's the only one.

ESTELLE SHULTS

She's smiling and fair,
Of which I think she's aware;
I can't believe she doesn't know,
I'm dead sure Floody's told her so.

WILMAY HANSON

One night one boy, the next another,
But all the time they are a brother.

BEATRICE HANSON

I'll take all that comes my way,
Whether in work or whether in play.

VIRGIL HINES

Rather reserved and dignified.

ANNABEL HOVDE

I'd love to be tall;
As it is I'm small.

DARWIN KRUGER

I may not have so many girls, but a man's a man for 'a that.

ELMA LANSING

The pride and joy of her friends.

ADELINE LARSON

Many's the day I've sighed and sobbed,
But the world is bright since hair is bobbed.

GERTRUDE LANGER

Sometimes reserved, sometimes loud,
But of her the Junior class is proud.

TED LEONARD

Another as happy and bright as a lark,
He sees the bright side and ignores the dark.

LILLIAN MASON

A beloved blonde, of which many are fond.

INEZ MASON

I may be silly, but I love my Billy.

FLOYD MARK

Always dressed up to the style,
The girls look at me all the while.

LORENZO MEACHAM

What Casey and Marks do, I'll do.

BERNARD MORTON

When not at work I'm fooling,
I'll ne'er regret this schooling.

ALLAN MURPHY

Wanted! Room to wiggle my jaw while chewing gum.

AGNES NEPPL

Of all the boys that go with me,
I only like one out of every three.

HARTZELL NEELY

Small and short, but oh! what a sport.

GLADYS OELLRICH

Wanted: Position at Diamond Bluff hairdressing parlor.

BEATRIX ORTON

She always tries to do her best,
Until she succeeds, she takes no rest.

LEWIE PETERSON

The future Edison of the world.

LEONARD POWERS

He comes to school to obey the rule.

EVELYN POLK

Our future fashion leader.

CORVIN POLK

I'm not what I pretend to be.

KENNETH RYAN

Somebody's whispering, paper wads flyin',
But who said they came from Kenneth Ryan?

SELMA SATHER

When Selma is near, the world is full of cheer.

CLARENCE SEIFERT

A man with his head in the clouds.

IRENE SNOW

Short and dark, happy as a lark.

TERRANCE SNOW

'Tis better to have loved and lost,
Than never to have loved at all.

JULIA STEIN

She smiles, laughs, and works.

CLAIR TRAVIS

Listen to me; I won't keep you long;
Take my advice, and you'll never go wrong.

When Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson (nee Evelyn Peterson) were on their honeymoon, they found the following inscription on a small marble box: "Here Lieth the Latest Testimony of the Class of '26." This is what they found upon opening it:

Marion Haessly—President of a Gum Factory. Assistants: Marvin Christenson, James Hines, Edith Lubnow, and Alice Lunde.

Bernhardt Aadalen—Manager of the Aadalen Department Store.

Raymond Langer—Hosiery department.

Fred Bork—Ladies' Ready to Wear department?

Ada Collette and Frances Bonney—Giving canaries vocal lessons.

Wayne Mewhorter—Mayor of Ellsworth.

Edna Grant and Leland Kraus—Traveling through the state giving dancing lessons.

Marjorie Brookshaw—Florist, specializing in "Rosies."

Edna Lehman and Myron Melstrom—Joined in the bands of matrimony.

Agnes Ekstrom—Managing a "Bean" farm.

Ellen Dahl and Albert Davidson are the town sports.

Avery Fink and George Olson—Circus clowns.

Archie McLaughlin—Held on the charge of bigamy for marrying Eleanor Odalen and Crystal Rasmus.

Gladys Anderson, Gertrude Mumford, Florence Peterson, Hazel Schwarztrauber—All striving for the heart of Merlin Huber.

Marcella Oltman—Running a Tea Shop, where she spends most of her time entertaining her cat and parrot.

Don Zwickey—Conductor on the Hudson-Ellsworth "Peanut Roaster."

Anna Mae Wells, Gladys Laughnan, Veronica Shannon, Anna Bork, Ruby Anderson—Teachers in the Ellsworth High School.

John Campbell and Grace Gilbert—Wedded and living on a farm.

George Headrick and Katherine Fitzpatrick—Working for them.

Elizabeth Manser and "Tubby" Lord—Co-operative Five and Ten Cent Store.

Genevieve Hagg—Dignified librarian.

Bernard Floody—Still runs the street car between Ellsworth and Beldenville.

 'Cause we're not half as green as you think we are.
 R is for ridiculous, which we all can be;
 E is for education, which we must not flee.
 S is for study that we all try to do
 To see the class of '27 through.
 H is for health, we share half and half,
 M is for the members of the Freshmen class.
 E is for English, we all should use;
 N is for neglecting, which none should do,

FRESHMEN HISTORY

If the class of '27 keeps all its sixty members, it will be a record class. In greenness it has already broken the record. The second day of the last semester, several timid little boys dropped into the Senior Physics class and thought while there, "Humph!" this is funny. I always thought Algebra was no good." One particularly brilliant member inquired whether the assembly was where the principal taught. "Stub" Steiner, Ralph O'Connell, and Milton Thoms each wore out a pair of shoes hunting for their class rooms, finally arriving at the right one after a week or two had passed. Alice Leonard wondered if the bell at the end of a class period was an alarm clock.

It was not long, however, before records in other lines began to bring the Freshmen into prominence. Lois Brown won a prize for writing a song for the Milk Campaign. Stuart Riley represented the class in football and basketball. Leland Larson, Donald Ingli, Warner Hudson, Raymond Holden, and Lester Lansing played on the Junior foot ball team. Evelyn Moen, Virginia Hagg, and Lois Brown are running a close race for the title of Valedictorian. Virginia and Evelyn acted in "Yanki San."

It is the desire of the Freshmen to continue to hold high offices. Donald Ingli, as president of the class will no doubt stand on the U. S. Presidential platform some day. We predict that Seward Arnold, our great musician, will continue his chief occupation of fiddling around. Lacking an ouija board, we cannot foretell the fate of the other members of the class. It is enough to know that great things come from good beginnings.

I'D LIKE TO BE

I'd like to be a Freshman,
As green as green can be,
Although they say that we're as green
As the color of the sea.

I'd like to be a Sophomore,
They're a silly bunch of kids,
They tease the Freshmen all day long
And do as no one bids.

I'd like to be a Junior,
Passing time at play,
And I'd like to be a Senior
Working the livelong day.

But the best of all are Freshmen,
As green as green can be,
For there's no one like a Freshman
When it comes to loyalty.

COACH MURPHY

We cannot over-estimate the services of our football and basketball coach, "Ed" Murphy. His three years on the football team of River Falls Normal, ending with a captaincy in his last year, gave him a knowledge of the fine points of the game. His untiring efforts to patiently mould the raw material into a well organized fighting machine, his persistent driving in practice night after night, rain or shine; and his determination to develop team play with a fighting spirit command the respect of all. Although handicapped at the start of the season by the lack of experienced men, Coach Murphy has moulded into shape a team that will be hard to defeat next year.

REVIEW OF FOOTBALL SEASON

When Coach Murphy issued the call for football practice the response was very disappointing. Fifteen men reported, out of which three were experienced. At first it appeared to be a hopeless task to build a football team out of the material.

But hard work and an extraordinary spirit of co-operation between members of the squad and the coach overcame many of the difficulties. While we did not have a winning team we had one which always put up a good game and steadily improved as the season progressed.

The season opened with Hudson in which game the boys showed a lot of fight, drive and power. Hudson was unable to gain by running plays, but due to a fine passing game and a bad break in luck for Ellsworth near the end of the game they were enabled to beat us 18-0.

The game with Roberts was the real disaster of the season. With a well experienced team they out played us all the way through and won 38-0.

It might have been expected that after that defeat the team would go to pieces. But instead they went at their task with renewed vigor and in their next game held River Falls, who had in the meantime defeated Roberts, to the low score of 18-0. This was one of the closest games Ellsworth has ever played with River Falls. It demonstrated the fact that the big thing Ellsworth lacked was experience.

In the last game, played at Spring Valley in a sea of mud, Ellsworth tied the Valley. In this game we showed real football and proved beyond doubt that next year, with more experience and ability, we can look forward to a successful season.

POEM ON ATHLETICS

Here's to the team that wins!
When winning is the goal,
The team that wins with the spirit
Of manliness that's whole.

But the team that wins the game
By every chance they see,
No matter if they break the rules,
Will get no cheers from me.

Here's to the team that loses!
In spite of good clean fight,
That's the kind they call good losers—
The kind that play it right.

The team that loses the game
When better could be done,
I won't defend their name
In the games they should have won.

So when we end our days at school
And go out to face the strife,
If we only remember those "play square"
rules,
We'll win the game of life.

—Bernard Olson.

E. Krause—Playing his usual steady, hard game Captain Krause amply demonstrated his fitness to lead the squad. Everal is undoubtedly one of the best football men Ellsworth has produced. His loss will be severely felt next season.

L. Peterson—Lewie's election to the captaincy of next year's squad is a well merited honor. He has dash, fight, and a good football head. Lewie should be a great leader.

W. Brookshaw—For a clean player and a hard fighter we have only to look to Brookshaw. "Ticky" has made a real place for himself in Ellsworth athletics. His place will be one of the hardest to fill next fall.

B. Hales—Although a new man this fall, Hales, through his natural football ability and close attention to coaching, became by the close of the season, one of the most valuable men on the squad. He should be a real help to Captain Peterson next fall.

R. Langer—Langer was probably the best tackler on the team, and although new to the game he developed rapidly. In the Spring Valley game his work was a big factor.

Snow—"Terry" was one of the experienced men on the squad. He was valuable not only for his playing ability but also because of his steadying influence on the rest of the team. The fact that he is returning next fall boosts our prospects several notches.

C. Polk—One of the real finds of the season was Polk at center. He settled into the job like a veteran and although a small man for the position was not outplayed in any game. "Watch Corwin next fall" is a good tip.

N. Bartlett—One thing which could be depended upon in every game was that Bartlett would go in and give a hundred per cent. of his ability. We are glad to say he will be back fighting for the Purple and White next fall.

S. Riley—It does not very often happen that a Freshman makes a football team. In spite of lack of size and experience Riley showed that it can be done. With this year's experience and a few more pounds he should be a real star next fall.

Bergholtz—Working under the tremendous handicap of knowing absolutely nothing about the game, Bergholtz gave a fine example of what real work will accomplish. He will be with the E. H. S. next fall.

M. Peterson—Peterson displayed a willingness to learn. He showed good play in the games in which he participated. Marshal lacked only experience to make a good man.

Lansing, Eaton, and A. Murphy—No team can ever go through a season without replacements and in Lansing, Eaton and Murphy we had three men who could always be relied upon to fill a regular's shoes when called upon.

REVIEW OF SEASON

With nearly all of last year's team back and several new girls out for places on the team, it looked at the start of the season as though we were to have a very successful year.

This belief was added to in the game with River Falls in which, although we lost, the girls played splendidly and the game was in doubt until the last whistle blew.

The Alumni proved no match for the girls, and were defeated in two games. Prescott with a center who is one of the best players ever developed in a high school and playing semi-boys rules tramped on us twice by decisive scores.

While the season was not as successful as last year it is well to remember that the competition offered was much stronger and the loss of NaOma Floody the latter part of the season also disrupted the team to some extent. It is to be regretted that we could not play more teams but due to the fact that there is such a wide variance in the rules under which girls play it is almost impossible to schedule a large number of games. It is to be hoped that an agreement can be reached by which the high schools of this section may adopt one code of rules which will be strictly followed.

REVIEW OF SEASON

Handicapped by a late start, due to the fact that the hall was under construction, to get a place to practice in, the Basketball team did not have a chance to show their ability till late in the season.

The last four or five games were whirlwinds, and were lost only because of the inherent and consistent inability to shoot baskets. Time after time the ball was carried down the floor only to be lost in a poor shot. Regardless of the cause, the fact remains that most of the games were lost because we could not make shots count. But since accurate basket shooting is the outcome of long practice, perhaps we may look for a decided improvement before next season.

The most noteworthy point in the work of our boys was their ability to pass the ball. In every game the officials remarked on the fine floor game displayed by Ellsworth; also the fact, that although in every game their opponents were larger and heavier, our boys kept after them all the time. There is no game in which our boys were out fought.

The schedule was one of the hardest possible. Out of the eight teams which will compete at the River Falls tournament Ellsworth played three. When it is considered that there are twenty teams in this district it is seen that the team has played no set ups.

The game against Spring Valley at Ellsworth, the game against Red Wing Seminary and the two Prescott games were the best of the season.

With four regulars back next season the prospects are bright for a team which will be fighting for top honors.

FORENSICS

For many years Ellsworth High School has been included in the Lawrence Debating League. Although victories have been few, an enthusiastic group of students each year comes out for debate, and Ellsworth can be proud of the creditable showing they make.

In 1923 Gordon Clapp, Bernard Morton, and Rosario Neely, negative, and Markham Morton, Ida Locke, and Robert Green, affirmative, won decisive victories in the first preliminary debates with River Falls and Arcadia.

This year a regular debating class of twelve students was formed for the purpose of giving more than the regular team training in forensics. The essentials of debating and public speaking were studied. The teams, composed of Wilbur Brookshaw, Corvin Polk, and Bernard Morton, negative, and Rosario Neely, Luther Arnold, and Marshall Peterson, affirmative, were defeated by Hammond and River Falls in the preliminary debates. Nothing daunted, the boys who will be here next year are determined to work for a winning team.

Oratory and declamation, as well as debating, have brought out splendid talent. Last year, Gerald Dodge, Gordon Clapp, Helene Elliott, and Dorothy Miller represented our school. "The Hub" goes to press too early for the report of this year's contests.

Every boy and girl has latent powers of expression. Why not develop them? Forensics in high school have started many a great man on a career of fame. Take advantage of the excellent practice in speaking and come out for oratory, declamation, and debate next year.

The Athena Literary Society, formerly known as the debating society was organized in September, 1924. The aim of the Athenians, like that of the Hesperians, is to promote forensic talent.

The Athenas gave their first program November 27. The program was as follows:
 Song—"America for Me." Oration—"Americanism." Proper Use of Flag.

Debate—Resolved: That European immigration into the U. S. be prohibited for a period of five years.

Americans Creed. Song—Star Spangled Banner.

The second program was given January 29:

Reading—Life of Robert Burns. Song—Auld Lang Syne.

Play—"Tom's Practical Joke."

Debate—Resolved: That the U. S. should own and operate the coal mines.

The Athenas have succeeded in all they undertook and have discovered much new talent.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

The first Boy Scout troop in Ellsworth was chartered on January 8, 1915. Work was immediately begun for the advancement of the boys through the three stages of the organization. Mr. Jeffrey served as scout master as long as he was here, being succeeded by Ralph A. Peterson. When he entered the service in 1918, his place was taken by the Reverend H. Eastwood of the Presbyterian church. Other Scout masters have been Victor Nelson, L. W. Fulton, and E. B. Johnson.

Camping trips were taken to Rush River, Lake St. Croix, Stillwater, Bass Lake, and Long Lake. The last named was held at the Y. M. C. A. camp, and was the most successful.

During the war the Scouts of Ellsworth were active in the various drives, Liberty Loan, W. S. S., and so forth.

At present thirty-five boys are enrolled in the troop which was active under Scout-master Johnson until bad weather set in. We are in hopes that the activities will be resumed in the spring, and plans made for the annual camping trip.

On October 8, Miss Baker issued a call for Camp Fire members. By November 20, of the girls who responded, fourteen had earned their dollar dues, chosen their Indian names, and were ready to become members. The Camp Fire was formally organized and the name Lowose chosen. Lowose, meaning love, work, and service is taken from the first two letters of each of those words.

One of the most interesting events of the Camp Fire was the Basket Social held at the schoolhouse February 19. The following program was given:

Song—"Mystic Fire."

Reading—Meaning of the Camp Fire.

Song—"Mammy Moon" and "Work Song."

Reading—Joys.

Music—Ellsworth's High Flutin' Orchestra.

Charade—Pious.

Reading—"If" for Girls.

Play—"Maggie and Jiggs."

Popular Songs.

The girls have earned their headbands, rings, and ceremonial gowns, by means of candy sales, taffy apple sales, and the basket social.

TEACHERS' TRAINING COURSE

In the year 1914 through the efforts of Principal N. A. Anderson, a training course for teachers was added to the Ellsworth High School curriculum. That year the following girls under the supervision of Miss Margaret Phillips completed the course: Inez Magee, Amelia Hanson, Rochelle Rudolph, Inez Tracy, Edith Betterly, Elizabeth Weghorn. Miss Phillips supervised this department for six years.

In the fall of 1919 Miss Cora Beitling, succeeding Miss Phillips as teacher, entered upon a successful three year term. In the spring of the year 1920, nineteen students graduated from the course. With the exception of the present class, this is the largest number of teachers that have graduated from the Teachers' Training course in any one year.

Miss Beitling was succeeded by Miss Mabel Jorstad in 1922. Of the thirty-three seniors, sixteen received certificates to teach. Thirteen of these students are holding positions in rural schools of the county. This year there are twenty-two seniors, four post graduates, and twenty-four juniors. During the history of the Teachers' Training course, 110 students have received Teachers' Certificates.

The present Smith-Hughes course in agriculture in the Ellsworth High School was established in 1919 when the need for it was apparent in our community where agriculture forms the backbone of enterprise.

The Smith-Hughes Bill which was passed and put into effect in 1917 provided for the establishment of Federal agriculture courses in the high schools in all states in the United States. One provision of the bill provided for direct summer practice (project work) to follow the class room work.

Ellsworth was one of the first two towns in Wisconsin to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity. The course is now firmly established, which fact is indicated by the large group in the picture above.

We strive here to teach those things that will lead to a happy and enjoyable rural life, as we are aware that it is an educational-economical proposition that only those who know and care should be entrusted with the natural resources upon the use and conservation of which rest the prosperity and permanency of our nation.

The young farmers who are now studying agriculture know that they must be masters of the kingdoms with which they deal.

May their good work and effort "carry on."

LIVE STOCK JUDGING

Each year for the past five, Ellsworth has placed a stock judging team in the field to compete for state high school stock judging honors. It is necessary to divide the state into districts in order that the work of determining winners may be successfully carried out. The district in which Ellsworth is included is usually composed of five teams. Twice Ellsworth has won the coveted place and has finished in second position the other three times. We are proud of our team's record. This annual contest, we believe to be a good one. A successful farmer should have the ability to make intelligent selection of individuals in his herds and flocks. The judging work is helping this cause along.

THESIS ON DETENTION

Through the mystic halls of this High School
Tread the wearied enforcers of detention.
Ever on guard at their posts;
Always ready to step into battle.
"Catch one or all" is their motto—
And well do they live up to their duty.
Their method—much tried and successful—
The same as applied by dog catchers,
In training of willful puppies.
This then is what we are put to:

We are praised and patted as students,
And treated like so many puppies.
Let it not be thought that this has been written
Against the innocent system of detention,
For that indeed would be foolish;
This is too world-wide and successful.
It is merely a protestation
Against our canine neighbors
On the steps of the Darwinian ladder.

WHY I GO TO SCHOOL

I don't know why I go to school unless it is for the fun of it I am shoor I don't come to study 'for I never do it. Once in a while I take a book and look at it maybe it is so that I can get out of work my standing are never up where the belong.

It must be like Mr. Rusy said we come hear to dust the sets.

—By a Freshman.

TEARS AND THEIR USES

Tears are produced by glands situated near the eye. The glands send out the tears when any part of the body is being hurt to a great extent. When dirt gets in the eyes, those glands immediately send out the tears to wash out the eyes. When something sharp like a fish bone gets lodged in the throat, the tears come to the rescue. The tears were made to keep the eyes clean, but they are used for many other purposes also, especially by girls. Some times when some young man wants to have his way about doing a thing and the young girl wants her way, and she sees she will have a hard time getting her way she immediately resorts to her last and only weapon which is one that she knows will help in getting her way. That weapon is the tear.

—Bernhart Aadalen.

WHAT KIND OF GIRLS BOYS LIKE

Some boys like 'em plump because the plump ones possess a vast hugging surface, while others prefer the ones that chew gum because chewing gum makes the jaws very muscular and this puts the snap in the kisses which I think most boys like. Others prefer 'em light so they can carry them over a mud puddle in case of an emergency, and not take chances of having a misfortune as Sir Walter Raleigh did away back in the Middle Ages. Some boys who admire the eyes only, like 'em with sky blue dreamy eyes. Some boys that are thoughtful and look after their future health like to get the ones that are skilled cooks. But I, myself, like the ones that possess a little of each of these good qualities.

WHAT I'D LIKE TO BE

I'd like to be a president
Of some big company,
And then a steady resident
Of some swell street to be.

I'd like to have men under me
That I could boss around,
Instead of in this monarchy
Where teachers reign supreme.

I'd want a great big income;
No books nor studies then;
I'd feel so gay and winsome,
How much coin wouldn't I spend!

I'd want a great big limousine,
With chauffeur at the seat;
And then a valet, trim and clean
To keep me slick and neat.

I'd take a trip around the world
And see those ancient things,
And meet those dear ol' dukes and earls
And all the queens and kings.

And if they'd ask who helped me out,
On whom at first I did rely;
With eyes aflame, I'd rise and shout,
"The knowledge learned in Ellsworth High!"

THE OLD MILL

The discovery of the old mill was a very thrilling incident. It came about in this way. Many years ago an old woman and her husband were wandering through woods through which ran a small stream. They were surprised at seeing this stream and being curious decided to follow it. After having slowly wandered along for several hours, enjoying the song of the birds and not realizing how far they were from home they seated themselves on a log and began to talk.

Their conversation was suddenly stopped by a low hum. They looked at each other in astonishment and both rising, moved toward the sound. About sunset they came to a clearing in the woods and directly before them on the bank of the small stream stood an old mill. It was run by an old man who did not care for the money he made by milling. He said, "You can get such a beautiful view of the sunset from here that I don't like to leave the dear old mill."

When the old people returned home, they told their friends about the mill and the sunset, and many years afterward, people made it a point, at least once during their life, to make a pilgrimage to the old mill to view the sunset which grew more beautiful every evening.

LINCOLN

Lincoln was a sturdy boy,
Six feet four inches tall.
He earned some pants of corduroy,
Splitting rails with a maul.

Lincoln was no common man,
Men will always his virtues repeat;
His mind, his brain, his heart were large,
And so were his feet.

On history's wall his life remains,
A guide for youth to copy.
No wonder that the slaves he freed
Were wont to call him papy.

No royal crown awaited him;
His palace was a shack;
In these corrupt dishonest days
We wish that he were back.

TRAVELS OF A POTATO BUG

I was born on a large juicy green plant in a potato field. My early life consisted of exploring potato forests with my hundred brothers and sisters, filling our cavities with large juicy green leaves and rain water. One day a maiden with sky blue eyes and as fair as a day in June came along, knocked me into a pail and took me with her. I did not care where I went if I were with her.

I lay on my back in the rusty tin pail, and when she looked in I would wiggle my feet at her to attract her attention. She seemed such a gentle maiden. But to my horror when we reached her fairy home, she tried to put me into a fire. Luckily I fell into her pocket.

That night a fellow came. I could not understand their language. At two bells in the morning they moved to the gate. I was pressed tight in her pocket, and at the same time heard a loud crash. After much fussing, the man left. The girl and I went to the house where we slept a sleep of utter exhaustion. In the morning it was found that they were E. H. S. students.

TRYING TO CONTROL MY WEIGHT

(As reported by Merlin Huber)

Trying to control my weight has been the most trying problem of my life. I have been advised by many people how to reduce. As none of the methods proposed were very easy, I let them go in one ear and out the other. I have tried all the so-called "Fat Cures" on the market, but none of them seem to help very much. I have tried Turkish baths for hours at a time but all they seem to do is to make me sweat a little bit. I have been told not to eat so much food, but sometimes I get so hungry that I can stand it no longer, and I tell you I make up for lost time. I have been going through physical exercises and been trying to twist my body into all kinds of shapes, but I am still as fat as ever.

—Don Zwickey.

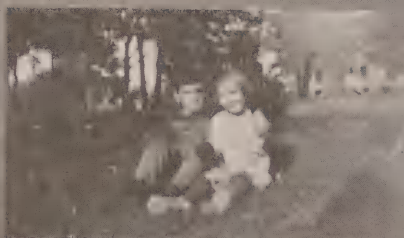

SCHOOL DAYS

With spirit and vigor they do their work,
Unheeding temptations to make them shirk;
And then when the toil of their schoolday is done,
They have their amusements in joy and fun.

And so when we end our days at school
And go out to face the strife,
If we only work as we worked at school,
We'll win the battle of life.

—Bernard Olson.

ELECTION RESULTS SHOW BORRCOBOOLIGHA MAJORITY

PROF. THOMS LECTURES TONIGHT

For the first time in the history of the community the inhabitants will be allowed the pleasure of listening to one of the most eloquent, bone-headed, and bombastic broad casters in the country; namely, Professor R. W. V. M. Thoms of the Amalgamated Society of Green Cheese Manufacturers of Bilbany, Texas. His theme will be "The Darwinian Theory Applied to Myself." Everyone is provided with naps to be used during the lecture. Mr. Thoms will take the stage at 6:30 p. m. and if the hens stop laying will continue until 3 a. m.

BISHOP HARTZELL IS APPOINTED HIGH MUCKY-MUCK

Bishop H. Neely has been appointed as chief executioner of the Komplcated Kidnapper's Kompany. In this position he will have the opportunity to wreak his vengeance on his unfortunate citizens, without suffering complications that his condensed form would ordinarily bring upon him.

L. FISCHER LECTURES ON PICKERAL

To an audience of nearly three persons and their families on the Court House green last Sunday noon, Lou Fischer, the great and illustrious inventor of the novel way of successfully capturing the monstrous undersea mammals, explained to the utmost detail the complications of the invention. According to her statement the success of her imagination lies within her magnetic personality. For further details inquire of Saxine Johnson, her private secretary.

THE DEMON DEITY Concluding Chapter XXCXXL

As Hexominorious peered out from behind the bushes, his mouth was suddenly filled with venom. He spat curses toward the man who had betrayed him. With a mighty roar like that of a canary bird, he sprang from his place of concealment and grabbed his worthy opponent about the throat and there ensued the greatest battle the sun had ever witnessed.

Suddenly, there rose a shrill cry (Wonderful!) The director arose and expostulated, "Report at the studio tomorrow."

ANARCHISTS HEAD TIN CAN ALLEY

The campaign of 1990 has come to a close. The whole country has stood gassed. The candidates have used every modern means to debate from del-dulcineadeltobosism to zauberblotic methods and now that the mustered gas has cleared from the barnyard, we find that only Norman Bartlett among all the rest stands unscathed.

COMMITTEE APPOINTS LOCAL MAN TO HIGH POSITION

The committee of she-knees and street cleaners have appointed Professor Clair Travis to the position of president of the Moeville Zoological Society of Research. He goes highly recompensed as a former student of Deacon Murphy.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT CAPTURED

"Greater sin can no man commit,
Than go out with some one else's girl;
And he that does so sin
Eventually will be caught."

Shakespeare was indeed correct. He might even have said 't is improper, for on Monday morning on the northeast steps of the Pierce County Court House was enacted a tragedy as great as any Shakespeare ever depicted. The mangled remains of Jonathan Langer's coat and near by the body of Evelyn Hanson clasped in the arms of Don Zwickey. Such was the calamitous scene which presented itself to the imagination of the editor at 17 minutes to nine, Wednesday evening, March 5, in the year of our Lord 1991.

EDITORIAL

My text this week is taken from the first verse of every Chapter of Milton. May the blessings of Henry Ford attend. For the school boy said to the teacher, "Yea, verily, thou hast rats in thy belfry." Now, dear Canada Thistle and Sour Dock, I wish to apply this text to you. May my wish be granted. So help me, Nebercanseezer. So be it.

SLUSH FIRM DISSOLVES PARTNERSHIP

The firm of Brookshaw-Haessly which dissolved partnership lately will be reopened under the name of the Hales-Fresse company. We will miss the old reliable company as they have always afforded us with plenty of entertainment, and we hope that the Hales-Fresse company will give us the same snappy service.

HUMOR

To tell a story

A little girl timidly asked the drug clerk for a package of pink dye.

"What do you want it for?" responded the clerk. "Woolen or cotton goods?"

"Neither," said the child. "It's for Ma's stomach. The doctor said she'd have to diet, and she wants it a pretty color."

OBITUARY

Burton Hales was laid to rest Saturday evening in the new feather bed donated him by the American Legion Post for his services as one of their distinguished members in their recent gum chewing contest. It is predicted by some of the veterans that he will recover his senses in time to attend church Sunday evening.

"ODE TO PHYSICS"

Mr. Murphy is my teacher, I shall not pass; he maketh me give answers in deep embarrassment; he leadeth me into the paths of gravity for mine own sake. Yea, though I walk in the paths of Archimedes and Newton, I cannot recite their laws and principles. They suffocate me.

He prepareth me for a calling down in the presence of mine own classmates; he raineth on my head questions that showeth me up.

Verily, verily, physics shall haunt me all the days and hours of my life, until I shall dwell no more in the laboratory forever.

WHAT MONEY MEANS

When all is said and done, it isn't the amount of money so much as the use to which that money is put which determines the happiness and progress which it will bring.

Learning how to use money is as necessary as learning how to make money if you would be successful, and the Bank of Ellsworth stands ready at all times to work with young and old to the end that they may use their money wisely and profitably.

Whether you are just starting out in life, or are well along on the road to success, we will welcome every opportunity for friendly co-operation.
